

Dr Benita Stiles-Smith has background and experience in paediatric nursing and psychology services for children and families in medical, mental health, and community settings. She has been involved in development and delivery of post disaster services and trainings in communities, organizations, and through Red Cross in the United States, Australia, and New Zealand, as well as being heavily involved in post trauma treatment throughout her career. She is currently in private practice offering treatment, supervision, and coaching.